Purpose

The apprenticeship college fully recognises its responsibilities for tackling extremism in all form and protecting our learners from exposure to all types of radicalisation. As part of our safeguarding framework, this policy will follow our safeguarding arrangements and be promoted and monitored by our safeguarding steering group.

We have a statutory duty under section 26 of the 'counter terrorism and security act 2015' to have 'due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism. The Prevent strategy, published by the Government in 2011, is part of the overall counter-terrorism strategy, CONTEST (update June 2018). The aim of the Prevent strategy is to reduce the threat to the UK from terrorism by stopping people becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism. The channel element of the 'prevent strategy' is aimed at stopping vulnerable people being drawn into terrorism, a programme working to challenge extremist ideas by working directly with individuals including children and young people.

The UK faces a range of terrorist threats not all of which are limited to the threat from religious extremists and we therefore need to be mindful of all potential threats to which our staff and learners could be potentially exposed. All terrorist groups who pose a threat to us seek to recruit and radicalise individuals to their cause.

Under section 26 we are required to:

• Know about and identify early indicators in learners

• Develop the confidence to challenge and intervene

• Assess the risk of students being drawn into terrorism and terrorist ideology

• Have clear protocols and record any incidents

• Be monitored by Ofsted in the implementation of these duties

Scope

This policy and related procedures apply to all staff, learners, and other uses of the apprenticeship college.

Definitions (Keeping children safe in education 2020 update)

Extremism is the vocal or active opposition to our fundamental values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and the mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs. This also includes calling for the death of members of the armed forces.

Radicalisation refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and extremist ideologies associated with terrorist groups.

Terrorism an action that endangers or causes serious violence to a person/people; causes serious damage to property; or seriously interferes or disrupts an electronic system. The use or threat must be designed to influence the government or to intimidate the public and is made for the purpose of advancing a political, religious or ideological cause.

Responsibilities

All staff are responsible for undertaking training on preventing radicalisation and extremism and for making themselves aware of the procedures contained within this document.

The designated safeguarding lead will have overall responsibility for the coordination of Prevent activity.

Risk assessment

We will undertake a prevent risk assessment which will be reviewed and updated accordingly by the safeguarding steering group.

Training

All members of staff are required to undertake specific prevent training as part of our wider safeguarding CPD programme. Training will enable staff to identify and understand the factors that make people vulnerable to being drawn into extremism and the knowledge of our processes and procedures to report concerns. Training is mandatory and renewed at least every two years. All new members of staff undertake prevent training as part of their induction period.

Guest speakers

We will pay particular attention to guest speakers and events and ensure that materials and resources do not encourage or promote radicalisation or extremism. A register of guest speakers will be maintained and vetting of both speakers and their materials will be carried out before approval is given.

Online safety and IT usage

We will continue to promote online safety and educate staff and learners about safe and responsible internet use.

We will :

- provide relevant training so that our learners can work safely and effectively online.
- Help our learners to develop an objective attitude to online information and evaluate its authenticity.

When learners and staff use our equipment, it is monitored closely, and suitable firewalls/ software safeguards have been installed to prevent any unauthorised or harmful attacks. All staff have received 'Cyber awareness training'

Any concern regarding online behaviour or use will be responded to in-line with our safeguarding reporting procedure and other relevant policies.

Raising concerns

Concerns specifically related to staff or learners who may be vulnerable to radicalisation should be reported using the safeguarding procedures to the safeguarding team. The procedure for referring safeguarding concerns will apply unless the threat is immediate and life threatening, in which case the police will be contacted. All information regarding concerns will be fed through via the CHANNEL Process.
